

Attorney Bio

Andrew Brown is senior counsel in WSHB's Tampa and Miami offices. Andy's practice focuses on general liability, construction defect, professional liability, catastrophic injury, and all facets of aviation law. Much of Andy's current practice focuses on representing design professionals, developers, general contractors, and subcontractors, in multi-million dollar single-family, townhome, and luxury high-rise litigation throughout Florida. Andy's expertise in these areas includes triaging high-damage construction defect claims received on the eve of trial.

Andy has experience defending MROs, FBOs, charter companies, and other aviation corporations in complex, national, and international civil litigation, including multi-million dollar products liability, wrongful death, and property damage claims. His aviation experience also consists of defending airports and advising corporations and individuals on controlling regulations and laws in the aviation industry.

A graduate of the Liberty University School of Law, Andy served as the Vice Chairman of the Moot Court Board for which he competed extensively and won several awards including Champion and Best Brief at the 2015 William & Mary Spong Moot Court Tournament as well as the Liberty University School of Law Class of 2015 Excellence in Appellate Advocacy award.

Prior to practicing law, Andy flew as a pilot domestically for US Airways Express as well as internationally for a private charter airline in Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom. He is a licensed Airline Transport Pilot with over 4,000 hours total flight time. He brings his practical life experiences and people skills to every matter he handles on behalf of the firm.
