WSHB's Fresno office is located in California's fast growing Central Valley, the nation's most productive agricultural region and a major center for logistics and petroleum production. Our cases range from small general liability claims to national class actions and mass torts. We have successfully tried numerous cases in state and federal courts and our practice also includes commercial arbitrations and appellate matters. WSHB Fresno has particular expertise in agriculture, toxic torts, commercial claims, products liability, construction, trucking and transportation and professional liability. Our lawyers reflect the diversity of this area and speak Spanish, Punjabi, Hindi, Greek and French.
